

The Defining Characteristic of a Libertarian

A liberal or a conservative is someone who identifies a social ill and then asks what laws can be passed to cure it.

A libertarian is someone who identifies a social ill and then asks what would be the most effective way to cure it.