The Role of Capital Formation in Professional Sports and Community Development

July 28, 2005
1:00 - 9:30 PM
The George Town Club
Washington, DC
FORUM DELEGATES and PARTICIPATION

Forum leader: Kevin C. Gottlieb
President, Kevin Gottlieb and Associates and Professor, Department of Public Administration
The Maxwell School, Syracuse University

Guest Speakers
The Hon. Anthony A. Williams
Mayor, Washington, DC

Jerry Reinsdorf
Chairman, Chicago White Sox

Allen R. Sanderson
Department of Economics, University of Chicago

Delegates
Peter J. Biché
Executive Vice President and CFO, Washington Sports & Entertainment

James R. Dalkin
Senior Manager, Deloitte & Touche

George G. Daly
Dean, McDonough School of Business
Georgetown University

The Hon. Edward M. Gramlich
Governor, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve

Steve Green
Director of Development, Office of the Deputy Mayor for Planning and Economic Development

Stuart I. Greenbaum
Dean, The John M. Olin School of Business
Washington University in St. Louis

Frank Hawkins
Financial Officer, National Football League

Jay O. Wright
Chairman, Director, and CEO, MobilPro Corporation

Executives and Distinguished Guests of CMRC Sponsors and Conference Sponsors
The Role of Capital Formation in Professional Sports and Community Development

July 28, 2005

The program is a collaborative forum of experts from professional sports management, economics, and politics to discuss the impacts of professional sports facilities and franchises on urban economic development and capital formation. Washington is celebrating the development of three major sports facilities: the return of baseball to Washington after a 33 year absence; the redevelopment of the MCI area of the City; and the construction and expansion of FedEx Field.

This is an invitation-only forum, for leaders and sponsors of the Capital Markets Research Center.

SPONSORS

CONFERENCE SPONSORS
- Allied Capital
- Legacy Partners Group
- Promontory Financial Group
- Wachovia Securities, Inc.

CMRC SPONSORS
- Citigroup
- Credit Suisse
- First Boston
- Deloitte & Touche
- Friedman Billings Ramsey
- Goldman, Sachs and Company
- Merrill Lynch
- U.S. Trust Co., Inc.
BOARD OF ADVISORS

Jack Boorman
International Monetary Fund (ret.)

Charles A. Bowsher
Comptroller General of the United States (ret.)

Cesare Calari
The World Bank

Michael G. Carberry
The Direct Impact Company

Joseph E. Connor, Jr.
United Nations (ret.)

James R. Dalkin
Deloitte & Touche

Michele Docharty
Goldman, Sachs & Co.

Jonathan L. Fiechter
International Monetary Fund

Richard H. Frank
Darby Overseas Investments, Ltd.

Thomas J. Healey
Healey Development LLC

Eugene A. Ludwig
Promontory Financial Group

John Maier, II
Legacy Partners Group and Allied Capital

Jules W. Muis
European Commission (ret.)

Gary L. Perlin
Capital One

Michael Staten
Director, Credit Research Center, Georgetown University

Patrick M. Steel
Friedman Billings Ramsey

Laurence A. Tosi
Merrill Lynch & Co., Inc.

David A. Walker
Capital Markets Research, Georgetown University